

Wine Spectator

September 30, 2016

Web Only

91 POINTS

Joseph Carr

2013 Rutherford Cabernet Sauvignon

A big-league effort, with a firm, tight core of graphite-laced black and wild berry, shaded by spicy, chewy oak and tannins and ending with a powerful aftertaste that bodes well for the future. Drink now through 2028.

1,730 cases made. —JL

